LIQUID LIPPS

is the name by which the Popular Pianos manufactured by RICHARD LIPP are known. In both Hemispheres—Europe, Asia, Africa, Australia and the Far East, the are known and appreciated. The Popularity of these Pianos is evidenced by testimonials from all parts of the globe testifying unanimously to their excellent qualities in detail.

LIQUID LIPPS

are the Pianos par excellence for India as they are built and warranted to stand the extremes of a tropical climate in that they have complete metal frames cast in one piece and yet maintain all that which is the outstanding feature of these celebrated and covetable Pianos combining as they also do the desirable musical quality of which is capable of the most exquisite expression and further they will stand absolutely in perfect tune to the recognised full musical pitch in any climate. The pitch known as which is higher than the pitch at which most Pianos are tuned in India. The most moderate priced Piano ever offered in India.

LIQUIDNESS OF TONE

LIQUID TOUCH

VETARZO BRAIN AND NERVE FOOD.

Agents for India—TREACHER AND CO., LTD BOMBAY, BATLIWALLA and POONA.

This remarkable compound, the result of the latest developments and achievements of modern chemistry, pharmacology, and therapeutics, is without equal in all cases of defective nerve power, whether induced by worry, over-work, unhealthy climate, dissipation, excess, youthful imprudence, or other influence incidental to the wear and tear and hurry and overstrain of modern life. Sleeplessness, tremblings, palpitation, nervous dyspepsia, low spirits, mental and bodily prostration, muscular and local weakness, general and nervous debility, faulty nutrition, premature decay or deficiency of the vital forces, impaired vitality, harassing dreams, night disturbances, sudden startings, dimness of sight, defective hearing, loss or memory, inability to perform the various duties of life, or to enjoy its pleasures, restlessness that can settle to nothing, irritability of temper, female complaints, hysteria, painful periods, backache, bearing down sensations, nervous headache, wasting disease, night sweats, and all other phases of brain and nerve exhaustion, are successfully combated by this highly scientific preparation. Bracing up the system generally, it gives tone to the exhausted nerves, arrests all weakening wasting discharges, involuntary losses, &c.; restores the failing energies, and imparts new life and vigour to what had so recently seemed worn out, "used up," and valueless.

VETARZO BLOOD MEDICINE.

Never before was there anything like it, nor can its marvellous properties ever be equalled in all cases of poorness, impurity, or other imperfection of the blood from whatever cause arising. No sooner is it imbibed into the system than it permeates and penetrates to the minutest capillaries, overcoming and expelling the virus of disease, wheresoever and in whatsoever form met with; removing all blotches, pimples, sores, scurf, scurvy, scrofulous and glandular swellings, discolorations, roughness and unsightly patches, &c. Its effects are almost magical in the treatment of gout, rheumatism, sciatica, lumbago, pains and swellings of the joints, discharges, secondary symptoms, eczema, lepra, psoriasis, bad legs, bad breasts, abscesses, ulcers, sores, goitre or Derbyshire neck, it improves the general health, and quickly removes long-standing bronchitis, asthma, and hacking, straining, spasmodic cough, too often the precursor of consumption.

CAUTION.—Ask for "VETARZO Brain and Nerve Food," or "VETARZO Blood Medicine," whichever is required, and see that you get them, as unprincipled vendors often try to palm off inferior preparations (usually their own manufacture), for the sake of extra profit. Price in England, 2/9. Every genuine bottle of these medicines bears the British Government Stamp with the words "VETARZO REMEDIES" impressed thereon, in white letters on a red ground, by direction of His Majesty's Hon. Commissioners. Registered Trade Mark "VETARZO." Legal proceedings will be taken against persons pirating.

COMMON SENSE IN A NUTSHELL.—A new medical work on the causes and most scientific and effectual means of self-cure ever discovered for nervous exhaustion, depression of spirits, want of zest and energy, &c., with practical observations on marriage and full directions for removing certain disqualifications that destroy the happiness of wedded life. It also treats on urinary derangements, secondary symptoms, stricture, &c., and no sufferer should fail to procure a copy. Post free in plain envelope on receipt of Postal Order Sixpence, from THE VETARZO REMEDIES Co., Gospel Oak, London, & of Agents for above medicines. Price 10 annas Post Free.

IMPORTANT NOTICE.

AUCTION SALE OF VERY VALUABLE VACANT PIECES OF LAND suitable for small capitalists, and a large Bungalow at Mazagon.

Messrs. BENNETT and Co. will, on TUESDAY, the 25th and Wednesday, the 26th instant, sell by Public Auction at 4-30 p.m., on the premises at Mount Road, Mzagoan, the whole piece of land admeasuring 13,000 square yards, together with a bungalow, godowns, etc., standing thereon; the vacant land divided into 18 plots and the land together with the building divided into 4 lots.

The land is Government leasehold land renewable in perpetuity every 99 years, the lease commencing from the year 1905. The Government land tax is at present 5 annas, and 6 pies per 100 square yards, per annum, for the vacant land and Rs. 2-12-0 per 100 square yards per annum, for the land built upon.

This property is at Mount Road, at a distance of 150 yards from the Mazagon Tram Terminus and at the distance of five to ten minutes' walk from Mazagon and Byculla Railway station and it is near New and Old Mazagon Bander, Docks mills, and Wadi Bunder Store Depot, and bears Municipal No. —— and bounded as follows:—On the North Mount Road, on the South by detached bungalows inhabited by Europeans and Parsees belonging to Bavaji Kooshaba, on the West by vacant land belonging to Moosa Mopla and on the East by a bungalow inhabited by Parsees belonging to Seth Nazir. In short, this locality is suitable for Parsees and European habitations.

GOVERNMENT PAPER.

The market opened at 94-2 ready and 94 forward and has declined to 94 and 93-14 respectively, at which rates there were buyers at the close.

BULLION.

Bar silver in London was 1-8 up and New York was 1-4 up.

Local silver market opened at Rs. 72-13 and speculators who had bought in a lower market were freely selling at a good profit which maintained the rates and the closing rate was Rs. 72-13. Demand in gold both locally and from up-country is very poor and prices all round dropped by 3 pies. In shield sovereigns there was a drop of 6 pies in the rate.

STRANGER ROBBED.—It is reported to the police that a man named Kalyan Juttoo, an agriculturist from Miraj, having arrived in Bombay, had put up in the Dharmasalla at Cowasji Patel Tank road. The following morning he woke up to find he had lost his trunk containing property worth about Rs. 680.

ROYAL SANITARY INSTITUTE.—At the Institute's Examination for Sanitary Surveyors, held at Bombay on July 15th and 16th, 18 candidates presented themselves. The following 9 candidates were granted certificates :—Contractor, D. A. Bombay ; Gilder, Sorab D. D., Bombay ; Godinho, Paul Xavier, Byculla ; Kargara, Merwan P. H., Fort, Bombay; Marathe, Ganesh Govind, Poona ; Mehta, Jehangir Hormusji, Bombay ; Mnatre, Pandharinath Pandurang, Girgaum ; Vadayavargam, Ramakrishna Rao Sreepatny Rao, Bombay ; Vaishnav, Dalerai R., Bombay.

LOSS OF NECKLACES.—Wai Mahomed Husaine, a Mahomedan Contractor, living at Sewree, has reported to the Police that a few days ago he had given three gold necklaces valued at Rs. 1,000 to his three children, eldest of whom was eight years old. The children after putting it on for some time removed it from their neck and kept the three necklaces in a cupboard. On opening the cupboard the following morning it was discovered that the necklaces were lost.

SUICIDE OF A FITTER.—Mr. G. F. Chalk, the Coroner, held an inquest yesterday, touching the death of one Lewis Gomes, a fitter aged 20, residing at Bapti Road. It appeared from evidence that on Saturday last the deceased went to his mother and other relations and asked to be forgiven, adding he was tired of life and would not live long. He was in monetary difficulties. Subsequently he jumped down from the fourth floor of the building, sustaining serious injuries. He was taken to the Sir J. J. Hospital, where he succumbed to his injuries. A verdict of death being due to multiple injuries received by jumping out of the building to commit suicide was recorded.

ALLEGED SWINDLING.

BEFORE Mr. Chunilal H. Setalvad, Fourth Presidency Magistrate, at the Mazagon Police Court, Inspector Morris on Saturday charged Banaji Framji Munshi with cheating in respect of one more transaction he had with A. G. Jones. It may be remembered that Mr. Morris has already charged Banaji Munshi in connection with the deception he played upon two men, who were induced to part with Rs. 500 each on the accused's false assurance that he was the proprietor of manganese mines in Nagpore. When the report of the cases was published in newspapers, Jones tried to find out if he had not been cheated by the accused. His fears were realised and he could discover that the property, in which the parties were partners, was mortgaged by the accused and Rs. 500 which he obtained was appropriated to his own use.

The inquiry was adjourned till the other cases were disposed of.

USING A FORGED DOCUMENT.

ON Saturday, at the Esplanade Police Court, Mr. H. Campbell, acting Chief Presidency Magistrate, disposed of the case in which Walter Hudson Thorman, a Ship's Engineer, was charged with using a forged document to wit a certificate purporting to be granted to him by the Board of Trade. Mr. E.F. Nicholson, Public Prosecutor, appeared for the prosecution. The facts of the case have already been reported in these columns. His Worship in giving decision said he had taken into consideration the good character the accused had borne, but the offence with which he was charged was a serious one. The document had a great value attached to it, and he (the Magistrate) therefore could not give him a lighter sentence than one month's simple imprisonment and a fine Rs 75, or, in default, fourteen days' further imprisonment.

BOMBAY POLICE.

MORE than usual interest attaches to the annual report of the Police of the Town and Island of Bombay—which has only just seen the light though it is dated June—for it deals with the first year's working of the new arrangements, introduced for purposes of reorganisation. It has apparently been a year of uphill work, a fact which the Governor-in-Council is not slow to appreciate, and is gratifying for those responsible to find their efforts have not gone without encouragement. Most strenuous labour is necessary, for reorganisation is not the matter of a magician's wand, and progress has been, and will still be, retarded for want of funds. We find reference to the low state of the presidency finances prominently referred to both in the report and the resolution reviewing it, and regret to find this stands in the way of carrying out reforms which have long been necessary and which we imagined were to be insisted upon without much regard to cost. The first allusion to the question of funds occurs in the paragraphs dealing with serious crime. It appears that the bulk of serious crime in the city takes place in the C and E divisions, of which the former is well known to generations of Police Officers as the hardest worked area in the island from the standpoint of crime. On the one side, we read, it shelters a very low class population, bad characters of all descriptions, and on the other the rich merchants of the Market section, Bhuleshwar and Sheikh Memon Street. The scene of the Null Bazaar is in dangerous proximity to the wealthiest portion of the native city, which attracts not only the indigenous professional criminal, but the up-country house-breaker and thief who pays a visit at intervals to Bombay. The C and E divisions are areas, which, in the opinion of Mr. Edwardes, the Commissioner, ought to be furnished with a proper Native Agency for crime-investigation and with a proper beat system for the prevention of crime. The present system of fixed posts he pronounces insufficient and antiquated. The agency for the investigation of crime will, the Commissioner believes, be sanctioned before long, if the experiment now being carried out in the A and E divisions proves successful, but, he adds, "I fear that the beat system is an impossibility without a certain increase of men, the cost of which the public finances may be unable to bear at present." Such is the case, and we are disappointed to find that although Government must recognise the utter futility of the fixed-post system, it does not display any inclination to abolish it.

Government, however, realises that the strength of the force is insufficient to enable it to accomplish all that is expected of it, for we find in the resolution an admission that "unfortunately European policemen cannot be spared for traffic duty, except at a few points of special importance, and the Indian constables show so little aptitude for that work that it would be a mere waste of funds which are urgently required for other improvements, to make any large increase in the numbers employed on the control of traffic." We do not know who is responsible for the reflection on the traffic constables, but is evidently some one who has a limited acquaintance with Bombay city and has had little opportunity of forming an opinion. The traffic constable of Bombay cannot, of course, be compared with his great prototype in London, whose efficiency is the envy of every capital in Europe, but the fact remains that he has shown remarkable aptitude for his work. His authority is daily more respected than it was; the thoroughfares are safer and the number of accidents greatly less, notwithstanding an ever-increasing amount of traffic. The difficulties with which he has to contend are not made any lighter by the better class people who ought to assist him, but instead defy him and ignore his position and responsibilities. But that is not an insuperable difficulty and a judicious prosecution now and again would doubtless have a wholesome effect. With regard to the traffic constable, as with every other class, the marvel is, he is able to do his work so satisfactorily as he does, for, as is pointed out in the report, he can receive but little training as no facilities for it exist and the percentage of absentees, from various legitimate causes, is so high that before a recruit has gone through more than a few elementary drills he is put on duty in the streets and left to providence and such natural intelligence as he may possess. Still, says the resolution, "several additions were made to the force for special purposes during the year, but the general reorganisation scheme has not yet been approved. Government entirely share the views of the Commissioner regarding the relief of the Divisional Police from prosecution duty and provision for the training of recruits, and it is purely a question of funds whether these reforms can be introduced." So we need not abandon hope of better things and greater efficiency in time to come.

On the whole the Police have little cause for dissatisfaction with Government's review of their work. His Excellency in Council observes with pleasure the good results attained in the identification of criminals, and thinks that the promptitude with which the small staff of operators were able to supply information for use in the Magistrates' Courts is itself sufficient justification for the retention of a local establishment to deal with purely local criminals. Due praise is also accorded the Criminal Investigation Department. Government acknowledges, too, the effectual means adopted by the Commissioner in dealing with refractory men whose insubordination marked the opening days of his administration. For some time after he took over, a spirit of criticism, amounting to discontent appeared to exist among the native police which was, Mr. Edwardes writes, in his opinion wholly artificial and was fostered by a few malcontents. The movement culminated in the refusal of certain sepoys to receive their pay. They were marched up to Head Office and promptly dismissed. Since that date there has been no trouble whatever. Moreover there is no dearth of recruits, and north-countrymen of good physique, apply for employment in considerable numbers—facts upon which the Governor-in-Council ruminates :—"Progress towards a higher standard of efficiency must inevitably cause a certain amount of discontent among the less desirable elements of a large body of men, such as the Bombay police force, but His Excellency the Governor-in-Council shares the confidence of the Commissioner that his efforts to raise its credit and prestige will be supported by the good sense and loyalty of the great bulk of the men." Doubtless it will, but it cannot be denied that though a marked improvement has been effected, much remains to be done. Directions in which progress may be made and the means by which a higher standard of efficiency may be attained are indicated in the Commissioner's report. If these lines are followed and if the experience of other police administrators is profited by we may procure a force equal to that of most European countries and superior to any outside Europe. But as we have seen, Government requires its money for other proposes of public utility which it believes are more pressing than those which aim at the protection of life and property. And so we must wait, thankful for the mercies which have been vouchsafed us and in the hope of further favours in the future.

GOVERNMENT QUININE FACTORY. Quinine as a medicine appears to be receiving more than usual attention on the Eastern side of India just now. The other day we noted a new scheme for distribution, which Dr. Bentley is strongly recommending, and now we receive an interesting annual report of the Government cinchona plantation and factory in Bengal. This is at Munsoong and is in charge of an officer of the Indian Medical Service. The energetic manner, in which the factory has been worked has, we learn, seriously depleted the plantation and the greater part of it is still a melancholy sight. However the effect of the reboisement operations which have been made during the past two or three years are becoming apparent on the lower slopes. At the same time experiments are being made with a new hybrid tree and with promising results. The samples examined have shown a percentage of quinine ranging from five to nine. Also the propagation of ipecacuanha has been resumed, and 2,600 plants have been added to the stock in the nurseries. The total working expenses of the factory during the year amounted to Rs. 91,235·15·4. The value of the 468,461 lbs. of bark worked up at the factory estimated at Rs. 1,07·010 10·9. The amount actually spent on the manufacture and packing of the quinine and cinchone febrifuge after subtracting the value of stock and the money expended on bark purchase and factory improvement was Rs. 61,434, or Rs. 2 8 per pound of quinine sulphate and Rs. 1-4 per pound of cinchona febrifuge. The purchase bark worked up in the factory cost, delivered at the factory, Rs. 76,610 and yielded 14,424 lbs. quinine sulphate. This is practically Rs. 5·5 per lb., and the total cost of the quinine sulphate in the purchased bark was therefore Rs. 7-13 per lb. The average unit rate for bark at the Amsterdam auctions during 1909-10 was 3-8 Dutch cents. Valuing the quinine sulphate 3·67 per cent. in the plantation bark on this basis the result comes out as Rs. 3-13 per lb. and the total cost of manufacture of quinine sulphate from plantation bark as Rs. 6-5 per lb. The difference is considerably in favour of the plantation bark, poor as it is compared with the purchased bark. The small quantity of purchased bark used has to some extent made the extraction of the quinine from it more expensive than if a large quantity had been purchased, but a more potent cause is likely to be found in the expense of transport due to the lack of facilities for easy conveyance of bark and stores in bulk to the factory. It is hoped that during the current year something may be done to expedite and cheapen the transport of foreign bark to the factory, but on account of a lack of data no definite proposals have yet been submitted.

RUBBER SHARE VAGARIES. The Home market reports tell a dismal story of the vagaries in Rubber shares, and on the day before the mail left, prices had fallen to the lowest level reached for a long time. The peculiarity of the movement is that no one seems able to point to any particular circumstance as to the actual reason for the steady depreciation, and it is not easy to find out whether the selling is heavy or of real stock as distinct from bear operations, or to ascertain the quarter whence the selling comes. Probably it is of a general character, and besides the liquidation on Eastern account necessitated by the financial troubles in Shanghai, which were precipated by unwise speculation in the shares some time ago, it is probable that weak bulls who have been continuing accounts time after time hoping for an improvement have at last tired of the steady decline and have closed their positions. One thing, however, is certain, the obvious restiveness existing in those circles in which the shares have commanded extensive dealings. Of course a considerable factor in the decline has been the great reduction in the price of the commodity itself. Here the shrinkage has been, perhaps, gradual, but it has been sure, and the result of this has been evidenced daily in the nervousness of operators in companies' stocks. The commercial correspondent of a Home paper says, in commenting on the situation that "not long ago the market dealers were hopeful of an autumn boom in the shares, but this hope has been finally abandoned, and now they are talking about rubber falling to a much lower level than at present, which would necessitate the revaluation of the producing companies' prospects, and possibly result in some of them being unable to market their commodity at a profit. Those companies who can produce at a very low figure, say 1s. 6d. to 2s. per lb., profess to be unmoved by the prospects of a further heavy fall in the price, for they argue that the establishment of the material at a much lower level would cause a substantial expansion in the consumption. Such companies would desire as much to make certain of a market for their produce as to see the price maintained, especially as outputs will increase as time goes on. With so many reports current regarding the state of the market and the outlook for the future, the small speculator who during the boom loaded himself with shares which have become practically unmarketable must feel a certain anxiety, and his position, if all accounts be true, is certainly not an enviable one.

INDIAN TEAM FOR ENGLAND. We are glad to learn that arrangements have now been completed for the Indian cricket team to leave Bombay for England on May 6th by the s. s. "Arabia," and that passage have already been booked. The first match is fixed for June 1st in London and Mr. Lacey has already arranged an attractive programme, including matches with almost all the Counties. The Honorary Secretaries have received a cable from England that Cuffe has been engaged to act as coach to the Indian team, and will arrive in the first week in November. It is also gratifying to note that there is every prospect of His Highness the Jam Saheb leading the team, if he can arrange for the proper control of the affairs of his State during his absence. Nothing could be more satisfactory than to find arrangements not only so far advanced, but on such a sound basis, and the Honorary Secretaries deserve warm congratulations for the success which has attended their laborious efforts.

IN two notifications of the current "Punjab Gazette," the Collector of Lahore, has been directed to take order for acquisition of land for the extension of the Lahore Medical College and Mayo Hospital, for the King Edward VII memorial.

A SHOLAPUR correspondent says, it has been decided to build a Civil Hospital there in memory of our late Emperor Edward VII. and subscriptions are being collected for the purpose. The well known citizen of the place, Rao Bahadur Mullapa Busapa alias Appa Saheb Warad, has subscribed Rs. 3,001 to this cause.

THE appointments of Mr. C. W. G. Gosling as British Minister to Bolivia and of Sir V. E. H. Corbett to be British Minister at Munich and Stuttgart are announced.

THE experiment is now being tried by the Madras Corporation of tarring roads with a view to allaying the dust nuisance, and it is understood that in future all the principal thoroughfares will be similarly treated.

THE Sultan of Morocco has decided to grant an aman to Mulai Kebir, his brother, who is at present a refugee, authorising him to return to Fez, where his estates will be restored to him.

BEING himself unable to fly, and not caring owing to the risks, to employ others to do so, Sir Hairam Maxim, the veteran inventor, who has nearly completed a biplane, announces that he will discontinue his experiments for the present.

A MOSQUITO-PROOF steamer named the "Thomas Holt" has left the Mersey for West Africa. The plan adopted is to bar the way of the mosquito into all the living apartments on board by providing all doorways, side port openings, windows, skylights, ventilators, and passages with close copper gauze coverings.

THE following Press Communique has been issued:—It is uncertain when Mr. Harcourt Butler will take over charge of the Department of Education. When he does so, Mr. J. B. Wood will officiate as Foreign Secretary until permanent arrangements are made. Mr. Wood's leave has accordingly been cancelled.

ACCORDNIG to authoritative information the Rumanian Government has decided to devote £10,000,000 to the construction of a fleet. This naval programme will form an integral portion of the military agreement which accordingly assumes a much more serious aspect, since it appears to be a blow aimed at Russia, and will thus disturb the balance of power in Europe.

FOREIGN AFFAIRS.

KAISER'S LATEST SPEECH.

Egyptian Agitators.

QUADRUPLE ALLIANCE.

(FROM OUR CORRESPONDENT.)

PARIS, SEPT. 24.

Kaiser William paid a visit on Wednesday to the Vienna Rathaus to inspect the well-known picture by Professor Matsch, "Homage paid by the Federated German Princes to Francis Joseph." Before the assembled Municipal Council, and in the presence of a large audience, the German Emperor made a speech, in reply to the address of welcome presented by the Burgomaster, Dr. Neumayer, to which great political significance is attached and which also produced a profound impression on those present. In the first place, the Kaiser thanked the Council for their resolution to call part of the Ringstrasse by his name, a section being known for the future as Kaiser Wilhelm Ring. His Majesty said that he was deeply moved by such an unusual honour paid to a foreign Monarch. The Kaiser then proceeded: "If I am able rightly to estimate the unusual homage here implied, I may consider it, in the first place, as an expression of that friendship and heartfelt feeling and sympathy which has long existed between me and the citizens of Vienna—(enthusiastic cheers)—which is everywhere evident in the friendly greetings when I drive through your streets, as well as being visible in the bright eyes of the pretty Viennese women. (Cheers). These are things which move and enchain a man's heart. I may further see in this resolution the acknowledgment by the city of Vienna of the fact that, at a critical and dangerous moment, the ally of the Emperor Francis Joseph had stood at his side in armour to fulfil what was at once a call of duty and of friendship. For this Alliance has convinced the people of both countries that it is an instrument of mutual benefit, and it has impressed itself as an "Imponderabil" (an impalpable influence) on their inmost beliefs. I therefore beg you to convey my warmest thanks to all the citizens of Vienna, both men and women, for the great honour extented to me. The highest blessing attending this resolution, however, is that it could have been passed in the 80th year of your exalted Sovereign. On this account the honour is all the greater. (Cheers.) I call for a cheer for a Monarch to whom you are joined in loyalty and love, to whom a nation looks up with heartfelt and warm reverence, to whom I myself look up in reverence as to my paternal friend—(loud cheers)—a symbol of personified self-denial and devotion to duty. I add to my thanks the wish that it may please the Lord long to spare to your deeply-beloved and highly-revered Monarch, so that under his rule, your city may further develop in peace, and that it may long be permitted to you to lay before him the tokens of your loyalty and love. I beg you to give expression to all those feelings which move my heart, uniting with me in the cry that the noble father of his people, the much-beloved Emperor and King, the lord of this beautiful town, may long experience the blessing of Almighty God upon his head and that he, his house, and his land may remain in God's hand and under God's protection—his Majesty, the Emperor and King Francis Joseph! Hurrah! Hurrah! Hurrah!"

COMMENTS IN VIENNA.

The speech delivered by the Kaiser is discussed by the Press next day in all the leading articles. With the exception of the Socialist journals, all the papers designate the speech as historic and memorable, but avoid all extravagance of expression. The "Neues Wiener Tagblatt" remarks that not only was the speech conveyed in a popular sense, but that the Kaiser, in making it, was the interpreter of his own policy, emphatically declaring, in the interest and security of European peace, that the friendship between the two countries was to-day more than ever effectual. The "Neue Freie Press" writes: "The words of Emperor William give a warning of possible grave times, and of Germany's determination to remain in all circumstances united with Austria-Hungary. These words will be read with the greatest attention all over Europe, and will be deeply engraved in the memory of those who read them. The popularity of the Alliance cannot but be enhanced by the Kaiser's speech. The "Zeit" admires the Kaiser's words but thinks it surprising that every time he speaks publicly he should arouse opposition. "This may be from the personal persuasion which he holds concerning his office and his position. He clings with every fibre of his being to the ancient traditional Borusian conception of Kingship. As German Emperor, however, he is a modern man. The Socialist "Arbeiter Zeitung" holds the view that Kaiser Wilhelm, in the choice of his words, only cosidered the momentary applause effect, and continues: "A Kaiser who was a statesman and not a rhetorician speeking laudation would probably have avoided the occasion of this speech, and declined in good time the honour that occasioned it. It is also questionable whether a time may not arrive when the name Kaiser Wilhelm Ring may be read unpleasantly of the very place where the Imperial orator received the warmest homage."

EGYPTIAN AGITATORS.

The Egyptian Nationalist Congress met at Brussels on Thursday afternoon. Mohammed Bey Farid, the president, in his opening speech, thanked Belgium for the hospitality granted to the Congress. He declared that the French nation was not responsible for the prohibition of the Congress in Paris, and he sent fraternal greetings to the Republic. He attacked the speeches of British Ministers on the Egyptian question, asserting that they did not hesitate to pervert facts and travesty the truth, and he denounced the action of Mr. Roosevelt in criticising the Egyptians in their own country. But they were, he maintained, advancing towards liberty, and nothing would be able to arrest their progress. Farid Bey went on to outline the programme of the Nationalist party, which included the evacuation of Egypt by the British and grant of a Constitution. The liberation of the valley of the Nile was a natural right which no one could deny. Egypt wished to resume the status she had lost owing to the machinations of British Imperialists and cosmopolitan financiers. The speaker asked if Egypt was to remain under the authority of Great Britain, because the country was traversed by an international canal. He insisted that Egypt should not be occupied by any Power, and demanded the neutrality of the country under the ægis of all the Powers. He added that the Egyptian question would be brought up at the next meeting of the Peace Conference. The speaker further outlined what the Constitution would be after evacuation, and said that it would be necessary to exercise control over the finances, which were at present managed without any regard to the interests of the country. He concluded his speech by rebutting the accusations of incapacity for self-government made against Egyptians, saying that they would be able to wait, but would never abandon their aspirations. The president then read letters received from foreign sympathisers, including one from Mr. Wilfrid Blunt, criticising Great Britain for her attitude. Among those present was Mr. Keir Hardie.

QUADRUPLE ALLIANCE.

The leading Clerical journal of Vienna "Das Vaterland," which is in close connection with the aristocracy and the leading officials of the Court, print a leader on Friday pleading in a striking manner for the necessity of the alliance of Austria-Hungary and Germany with Turkey. The article will not fail to cause a sensation, especially as it appears on the day when the Kaiser Wilhelm arrive in Hungary. The writer says: "Turkey cannot wait with folded arms until Russia has organised her army and navy and the Balkan States form a union in consideration of the fact that Russia and the Balkan States are preparing themselves, and that Montenegro, assisted by Russia and Italy, is arming, it is now to Turkey's greatest interest to unite herself with Austria-Hungary. This would be a matter of mutual advantage making any counter-coalition against Austria or Turkey impossible. Opposition to such an alliance would have no significance, as Austria-Hungary, Germany, and Turkey are armed for every eventuality. England must accede, however, unwillingly, as if she undertook a great war she would lose India and Egypt, and, notwithstanding her alliance with Japan, she would have to reduce her Northern Fleet to send ships to the Far East, for Japan trusts neither China nor the United States. Therefore, England's resistance would consist only of words. Before ten years Russia will be unable to lend a single soldier, as she must first strengthen herself from her internal revolution. Russia, therefore, must put on a good countenance to any alliance between Austria, Germany, and Turkey. It is unnecessary to mention France and Italy, as France can receive no material assistance from Russia, scarcely any from England, and none from Italy. As the colonial and domestic relations of England and Russia prevent their undertaking a war, France and Italy are paralysed. Italy is also forced to remain with the Triple Alliance. As matters stand, there would, therefore, be no resistance to this quadruple league, except in the newspapers. It would be advisable for Turkey not to let this opportunity for increasing her political strength escape her. As regards the the domestic policy of Austria-Hungary, the Italian irredentism need not trouble her so long as Russia remains unarmed, as they receive their strength from abroad. As Italy is bound to the Triple Alliance, she can neither be assisted by Russia nor England, and thus Italian irredentism falls to the ground. The Servians, too, would be forever crushed by the Quadruple Alliance, as Russia is now weak. The best soldiers from the Bosphorus to the Baltic Sea are those of the Triple Alliance and Turkey. If Turkey does not accede to this alliance, a Balkan war may ensue, and the best plan for consolidating herself would be to accept it. Such an alliance, however, must always be armed, for in ten years Russia will be fully armed as well as Italy, France, and England, and will also possess a strong colonial army, when grave fears of war may arise. Now is the time for the Triple Alliance and Turkey to act. Austria must keep in view the fact that cannons may be sent to Montenegro, as Italy regards that country as a bridge between herself and Russia. Before the alliance between Austria-Hungary and Germany is concluded with Turkey, the latter must abandon her presecutions of Christian subjects, which disgraces her present Government.

CONVENTION BETWEEN TURKEY AND ROUMANIA.

The conclusion of an understanding between Turkey and Roumania, is announced by the "Matin," whose special correspondent in Vienna guarantees his information as being derived from the most trustworthy sources. He says: "This convention complete the Triple Alliance, and Count von Aehrenthal is its chief author. A direct alliance between Austria, Turkey, and Germany would look like a rupture of the European equilibrium, as a hostile act towards the Triple Entente, and, after the negotiations relative to Crete, as an arrangement which would not be liked by Italian opinion. So it was necessary to construct a bridge between Turkey and the Triplice, and Roumania admirably fills this role. The Triplice and the Turco-Romanian Entente only complete each other in a positive manner if there is a previous convention between Roumania and the Powers of the Triplice. Well, this convention is of such a nature that it is possible to deny, it and impossible to prove it, as it comes of a personal arrangement between King Charles of Roumania and the Emperor Francis Joseph, and this is why Hakki Pasha had to go to Sinaia for a personal interview with the King. It was not intended by the Austro-Hungarian diplomatists that this convention should be concealed from Italy, but when he went to Salzburg the Marquis di San Giuliano enlightened his Austrian colleagues as to the wishes of Italian opinion, which desired to be less bound down than previously, when the Triplice was renewed. Under these conditions it was considered unnecessary in Vienna and Berlin to cause the Italian Government to enter into negotiations in which the Triple Alliance would reserve to itself the possibility of saying that it had not played any part. Austria and Germany can deny to Italy that they have busied themselves about a surely Balkan affair. To the representatives of England and France, to whom Austria has during the last two years been very attentive, they can declare that they know nothing. This, however, is one more powerful link in the Balkans, a bridge laid on officially neutral ground with a view to a future entente with Turkey if Italy should back out. It is a wonderfully cunning double game, but all the precautions have been so carefully taken that it is difficult to fail in it. Such is the explanation given by the "Matin's" special correspondent, and it has every appearance of being in the main correct. That an entente has been concluded is certain, and Roumania would never have come to such an agreement without referring the matter to Austria and Germany, as she has for years been attached to the Triple Alliance. It appears, however, to be more probable that the idea originated at Constantinople, and that it was only after the Roumanian Government referred to Vienna that the visit to Sinaia was planned. Roumania had been in hearty sympathy with the Triple Alliance long before she virually entered it and the explanation is the treatment which she received from Russia, whom she saved from a downright catastrophe during the great war with Turkey. Russia insisted on the retrocession of the valuable territory of Bessarabia, which is really a Roumanian province, and which had been restored to Moldavia by the Treaty of Paris, and the Roumanians have never forgiven or forgotten her ingratitude.

GERMAN CROWN PRINCE.

The "Reichsbote" publishes a story illustrating the genial humour of the Crown Prince. During the manœuvres of the Guards Corps, his Imperial Highness commanded the First Battalion of the 1st Foot Guards. One morning the battalion was bivouacking and a crowd gathered as usual to watch the soldiers preparing their meal. This time there was an unusual number of ladies attracted by the presence of the Prince. After the meal the men were allowed to amuse themselves in their own way, the Prince participating in the fun. Seeing ladies among the onlookers his Imperial Highness proclaimed an impromptu beauty competition, passed the assembled aspirants in review, and with impartial gallantry awarded prizes to all. The prizes consisted of chocolate and when the supply ran out, of cigarettes from the Prince's own case. The Prince was particularly gracious to three young ladies who, at his request, took charge of his camp kitchen and cooked pancakes for the Prince and his officers who hugely appreciated the deliscies.

NEW STEAMER LINE FOR EUROPE.

TO THE EDITOR OF THE "BOMBAY GAZETTE."

SIR,—The announcement by the Bombay and Persia Steam Navigation Company, Limited, of their intention to run two steamers to Europe from March next will be received, I am confident, by the ever-increasing number of voyagers, with much satisfaction.

If, however, this enterprising Company wishes to secure a fair amount of public patronage and support, they must assure the European Section at all events, that their ships are fully equipped and seaworthy and that they are officered throughout by fully qualified and experienced Europeans. What will do for the Hajis, they will find, will not do for the

LISBON GROWS QUIET.

New Government's Programme.

DETAILS OF THE FIGHTING.

(THROUGH REUTER'S AGENCY.)

LONDON, Oct. 7.

Reuter telegraphs from Gibraltar that the Governor boarded the yacht "Amelia" to-day and welcomed King Manuel.

Reuter wires from Lisbon that King Manuel quitted the palace on Tuesday at midnight by the back-door during the bombardment. He proceeded to Cintra and thence to Mafra, where he joined his mother and grandmother. They hastened together to Ericeira, escorted by twenty horsemen and boarded their yacht by fishing-boats.

According to official accounts of the flight of the Royal family, the Republicans assured Their Majesties at the earliest moment of their personal safety, and placed the yacht at their disposal. They did the same to the Duke of Oporto, though he had just been made a prisoner after fighting heroically in the streets at the head of the Royalists.

All is quiet in Lisbon. The new Ministers are in effective possession of state affairs, banks are open and business has been resumed.

The Republic has been successfully established at Oporto. The troops in the provinces are ranging on the side of the Republic and disarming the loyalists.

The New Policy.

LONDON, Oct. 8.

Reuter telegraphs from Lisbon that Admiral Reis, the leader of the revolution, has committed suicide, thinking he had failed.

The Government is preparing for elections to the constituent chamber. It has outlined a programme including the development of education, and defences, administrative decentralisation, colonial autonomy, the expulsion of monks and nuns, lay instruction, the separation of Church and State and the strengthening of finances.

Senhor Fonseca has sailed for Brazil on board "Sao Paulo."

An official account says the embarkation of the Royal family was very quietly carried out. There was no demonstration. The Infante Alfonso said he hoped to die in Portugal. Queen Amelie remarked to a friend "Au revoir."

Reuter wires from Gibraltar that the Royalties remain on board their yacht. They are depressed in spirits, but well in health. The Governor and Admiral Superintendent have been their only visitors. They have received King Manuel's suite. The latter are making extensive purchases of clothing in the shops, as the suddenness of their flight prevented them from bringing belongings with them.

Further Story of the Fighting.

The Daily Chronicle this morning publishes a continuation of its special correspondent's telegram. He adds the seizure of the Flagship and "Dom Carlos" won the victory for the Republic. The crew behaved in a demented fashion and kept up a furious random cannonade throughout the night, search-lights sweeping the harbour. At sunrise on Wednesday the remaining forts hoisted the white flag, disheartening the Royalists. At first detachments of troops and then battalions surrendered with the exception of the Municipal Guards, who fell in heaps rather than surrender. The remnant of the soldiery and the Municipal Guards made a last stand at Praca Camoes. They resisted the quick-firing guns for fifteen minutes, but their position was hopeless and they surrendered Half an hour later the Republic was proclaimed.

The correspondent says the Infante Alfonso was at the Villa at the beginning of the outbreak. He telegraphed to England, asking for a warship. The cable was cut, but an Englishman took the message to a repairing ship, which fished up the cable and sent the telegram.

LONDON, Oct. 8.

Reuter's special correspondent reached Lisbon yesterday at noon. The City wore a smiling aspect in cloudless sunshine. The streets were gay with promenaders, shops were open and trams running. The only signs of the revolution were the republican flag flying everywhere and squads of troops in the squares. There were some evidences of the bombardment, but the change is surprisingly small.

The total casualties in the fighting are believed not to exceed three hundred. There is a general feeling of relief that the inevitable has happened so speedily, and with so little loss of life.

President Braga, who is an unassuming grey haired professor, living in a small suburban house, in an interview said the revolution, like those in Turkey and Brazil, was purely the outcome of philosophical ideas. The Braganza dynasty had failed to keep abreast with modern progress and had continually threatened British intervention to crush the popular sentiment, whereas the alliance was between the peoples.

President Braga was convinced that an honest administration would place the finances on a satisfactory footing, and would achieve the moral and physical improvement which the nation needed.

Admiral Reis was the prime mover in the revolution. It was agreed that the warships should give the signal by firing thirty guns. They fired only three, and Admiral Reis, supposing the revolution had failed, blew out his brains.

The British press manifests a readiness to accept the Republic as soon as it is regularly established. It deprecates all suggestion of a partition of the Portuguese Empire.

Liberals hope the Republic will abolish servitude in the Colonies.

Reuter telegraphs from Berlin that the Reichsbote reaffirms that Great Britain was a party to the revolutionary plans and that the Royalties fled to Gibraltar under the compulsion of Great Britain.

The great lesson of the revolution is that every nation or dynasty lowering itself to become the tool of British policy thereby entrusts its fate to incalculable machiavellianism.

Clerical Interference.

LONDON, Oct. 8.

The latest phase of the situation in Portugal is the intense anti-clerical feeling which was increased by an incident last night. Jesuits threw a bomb from a window of a monastery killing two sailors. The troops arrived and encountered a shower of explosives. They opened fire with two guns.

The fighting lasted for three hours, the Jesuits dropping explosives. A number were killed on both sides. The firing ceased when the Jesuits displayed the Union Jack. Several Jesuits were captured and one killed while they were escaping disguised as peasants.

It is stated that the Government is about to decree the expulsion of Religious Associations. Meanwhile troops are guarding monasteries and convents against attack. The Government has granted an amnesty to political prisoners and has promoted revolutionary officers to replace Royalists.

Telegrams from Laurenco Marques state that the Governor has proclaimed a Republic amid an ovation.

LONDON, October 9.

Reuter wires from Gibraltar that the yacht "Amelia," being state property, sails for Lisbon to-day. King Manuel and Queen Amelia are remaining as guests of the Governor, while Queen Maria Pia and Infante Alfonso are proceeding to Italy.

Reuter telegraphs from Lisbon that the Government is doing its utmost to end the increasing anti-clerical agitation. The Minister of the Interior is motoring through various towns to restrain demonstrations. The priests appearing in the streets are being attacked.

President Braga is occupying one of the Royal palaces.

Telegrams are being received from all Portuguese colonies expressing adherence to the Republic. Portuguese Ambassadors have been appointed to Paris, Madrid and Rome. The Proclamation of the Republic has been formally notified in most capitals.

Marquis Pombal has been arrested on a charge of sheltering religious bodies and concealing arms.

The fight at the Quelhas Jesuit Monastery has revived agitation in the streets where the crowds are holding demonstrations against the clericals. The cavalry and sailors now occupy and protect the monastery, the contents of which are all in disorder, testifying to hurried flight of the monks.

Armed parites on Thursday night forced entrance at Trinas into the convent of the Sisters of Charity who pluckily resisted. Twelve were slightly wounded and taken to hospital, and the remainder were removed in waggons to a place unknown. The Convent has since been occupied by the soldiers.

A considerable band on Friday endeavoured to enter the College of the Portuguese Colonial Mission at Cintra where the Papal Nuncio is in residence, on a pretex of searching for arms. The Papal Nuncio, on the advice of the Mayor, refused to admit them and hoisted the Papal flag. The band did not attack, but asked permission to search. The Nuncio yielded and the visit ended without result.

A telegram despatched from Lisbon at eleven o'clock last night states that the City is most excited against the clericals. The Cavalry is patrolling the streets which are crowded with shouting and dsinging mobs. Occasional rifle and revolver shots are fired. There is a crowd round the Quelhas Monastery where shots can be heard though it is impossible to tell whence they proceed. The sailors guarding the Merces Church were shot at. They entered the church but found nobody. It is believed that underground tunnels connect the church with the convents and that the assailants disappeared therein.

STRAITS FREIGHTS BILL.

LONDON, Oct. 8.

Reuter telegraphs from Singapore that the Freights Bill has passed the Committee with two important amendments enabling the Government to raise the duty on Conference bills of lading proportionately with any increase in freights imposed by the Conference, and imposing on steamship owners the duties of common carriers.

Samy Pasha reports an important success by the troops in Hauran. Many Druses have been taken prisoners and the remainder have fled to the mountains.

GENERAL BOTHA'S ELECTION.

Strong Speech from the Premier.

[THROUGH REUTER'S AGENCY.]

LONDON, Oct. 7.

General Botha has been elected unopposed.

LONDON, Oct. 8.

General Botha speaking at Welverdiend, in the Transvaal, prior to his election, said the Nationalists had achieved a glorious victory. They intended to pull South Africa straight and make it a great and prosperous member of the Empire. He intended to play a big part in politics, continuing the policy of racial conciliation and co-operation. He warned the financiers of Johannesburg not to go too far in the exploitation of racialism. The Government would continue to deal honestly and fairly with the mines, commerce and agriculture. He foreshadowed an elaborate land policy and a development of agriculture that would make South Africa the rival of America in her export trade. He paid a tribute to Lord Gladstone, who was tactful and non-partisan, and whose father's name was a household word in South Africa.

SOUTH AFRICAN DEPORTEES.

Application to High Court.

[THROUGH REUTER'S AGENCY.]

LONDON, Oct. 7.

Reuter telegraphs from Cape Town that the Asiatics who were prohibited from landing from the "Sultan" were due to return this afternoon.

They have applied for an interdict restraining their deportation.

The Judge said he could only consider applications from those proving their qualification to enter Cape Colony. The others must apply to Natal.

Judgment will be given this afternoon.

LONDON, Oct. 8.

Cape Town telegrams state that one of the Asiatics has been allowed to land, and ten have received temporary permits pending enquiry into their claims. The remaining twenty-one, who were born in India and Mauritius, have been rejected and have returned to Durban.

MR. ROOSEVELT'S CAMPAIGN.

War against the "Bosses."

LONDON, Oct. 9.

Mr. Roosevelt, continuing his tour in the Southern States, is repeating the triumph he secured in the Western States. Crowds are enthusiastically cheering his speeches in which he proclaims undying hostility to the "bosses" and intention to root out party corruption.

FOREST FIRE IN AMERICA.

Loss of Lives and Huge Damage in Minnesota.

LONDON, Oct. 9.

Reuter telegraphs from Winnipeg that twenty lives have been lost and damage to the extent of a million dollars done by forest fires in the towns of Beaudette and Spooner in Minnesota.

(FROM OUR CORRESPONDENT.)

RANGOON, Oct. 9.

The bands of the Boyal Scots Fusiliers headed by the bands of the First Border Regiment and the 9th Bhopal Pipers of the 23rd Burma Infantry, marched to Lewis Street jetty this afternoon when the Fusiliers embarked on the R. I. M. S. "Hardinge" which leaves tomorrow morning with the troops for Pretoria. The embarkation list consists of 937 non-commissioned officers and men, 28 women and 46 children.

PARTITION DAY.

(FROM OUR CORRESPONDENT.)

CALCUTTA, Oct. 8.

The Bengal Nationalist leaders have finally decided to hold an Anti-partition meeting on 16th instant, and Mr. Rasul has agreed to preside on the occasion. There is, however, some difference regarding the reading of the usual National Proclamation at the conclusion of the meeting.

BURMA MALARIAL COMMITTEE.

(FROM OUR CORRESPONDENT.)

RANGOON, Oct. 8.

In connection with last October's Simla Malaria Conference, the Local Government to-day publishes a resolution, appointing as Provincial Malaria Committee, constituted of the Inspector-General, Civil Hospitals, Burma, as President, and thirteen members, of whom seven are Government and private man, and the rest of the mercantile community. The Committee will hold meetings in Rangoon, and are empowered to obtain any information necessary from the officers of Government. It is specially important that the Committee should be fully informed about local conditions, and the idiosyncrasies of people in different parts of the province. Funds will be placed at their disposal to obtain scientific literature, entertain the clerical establishment and generally to meet such expenditure as their investigations may involve. The Committee are to devote their attention to matters concerning inquiry into the distribution of Malaria, its epidemiology and endemiology. The Committee is required to submit a brief resume of its deliberations annually to a Central Committee. They will also be asked to select one or more members to attend the General Committee meeting in India.

PRINCE Firman Firms, Persian Minister of the Interior, has resigned. It is likely that his successor will be Vosuk-ed Dauleh, who held the portfolio of Justice in the previous Cabinet.

MAJOR GENERAL A. T. Moore, C. B., an Indian Mutiny veteran, celebrated his eightieth birthday during Mail week. He gained the Victoria Cross by his gallantry at the battle of Khoosab, in the Persian Expedition of 1857, when, with the 3rd Bombay Light Cavalry, he rode through a Persian square and back again.

REPLYING to an address presented to him on the occasion of his birthday, the King of Siam said that two more gambling houses and 500 opium divans had been closed in Bangkok during the past twelve months. Patience was imperative, but he was firmly resolved to remove both vices.

SAVARKAR'S EXTRADITION.

The Arbitration.

[THROUGH REUTER'S AGENCY.]

LONDON, Oct. 7.

Reuter wires from Paris that the British and French Governments are seeking to devise the most rapid and summary procedure possible in connection with the Savarkar arbitration.

M. Pichon to-day forwarded to M. Cambon proposals with reference to the question.

LONDON, Oct. 8.

Reuter's Agency learns that the Anglo-French proposals for arbitration in the Savarkar's case were exchanged to-day. These refer merely to technical details. It is hoped that the Protocol relating to the constitution of the court, the nomination of arbitrators and the procedure will be concluded with the utmost rapidity and the Court will meet at the Hague before January.

NASIK CONSPIRACY TRIAL.

At the Bombay High Court on Saturday, the further hearing was resumed of the Nasik Conspiracy Case before the special Tribunal, consisting of the Hon'ble Sir Basil Scott, Chief Justice, and the Hon'ble Sir Narayan Chandavarkar and the Hon'ble Mr. Justice Heaton.

The proceedings commenced with the examination of Inspector Favel, of the Bombay Criminal Investigation Department, Examined by Mr. Weldon, witness said that on the 28th January, 1909, he met Chanjari Rao who had arrived by s.s. "Sydney". He had orders to watch him and to examine his things. Accordingly witness took care to examine his luggage. His trunk was opened and among the articles contained therein were found one book on the "Significance of Indian Nationalism," one Browning Revolver, two packets of cartridges of 25 each, ten books of the "War of Independence," pamphlets of "Bandematram" and another in memory of Dingra. Witness said that he examined Rao's person and found in his pocket a photograph of Dingra. He also found sheets of closely-typed papers underneath Rao's shirt. Even in his boots, some books and papers were kept concealed. Witness arrested him and charged him before the Third Presidency Magistrate. All the articles found in the search were used as exhibits in that Court.

Cross-examined by Mr. Baptista witness said that his identification of Rao was correct. He knew Rao was not a detective Police Officer but was a Sanitary Inspector.

Cross-examined by Mr. Rangnekar, witness said that a Punch was held and the articles in the box were examined in their presence.

Ganesh Bulvant Vaidya, examined by the Advocate-General, said that he was transported for life in the Jackson Murder Case. He identified accused No. 11, Gopal Govind Dharap. He had seen him at Nasik and other places. He was his friend. He gave him the oath in the presence of Dandekar and Kathe who were his school masters. The oath was: "Remembering God, I swear from this day, I will do with all possible efforts what the Society will ask me to do." The name of the society was not given, but he was told it was quite a secret society. Its object was to attain independence by collecting men, arms and money. Money was to be obtained by thefts and dacoities. Another object of the society was to kill Government officers. Dandekar and Kathe had also taken oaths. The oath was brought in writing by Dharap who had introduced the witness to one Soman who was a convict in a murder case. Soman had a society of his own, the members of which had their own formula of oath. Soman's society was at work by collecting arms and manufacturing bombs. Witness said that the chief object of all these societies was to wage war against the English who were oppressing the people. Soman had also handed over to the witness materials for the manufacture of bombs. He then explained the process of preparing picric acid.

Further hearing was then adjourned.

PUNJAB JUDICIAL SYSTEM.

(FROM OUR CORRESPONDENT.)

LAHORE, Oct. 8.

A review of the report of the administration of civil justice in the Punjab is published in "Punjab Gazette." The Lieutenant-Governor observes that all are agreed on the desirability of a separate judicial service trying only civil cases, but the extent to which the service can be continuous from the lowest grade of Munsifs to the first grade of Extra Assistant Judicial Commissioners, is still the subject of correspondence between the Punjab Government and the Government of India. The number of original suits instituted increased from 180,150 in 1908 to 210,894 in 1909. The draft Punchayet Bill now forwarded for the consideration of the Government of India, which provides a rough and ready method of arriving at a decision in less important cases, will, it is hoped, somewhat alleviate the pressure of the ordinary civil court business. His Honour notes an improvement in the execution of decrees, and concurs in the remarks made in the report, regarding the necessity of extreme carefulness in the earlier stages of a case, and recommends judicial officers to get at the outset a good grasp of the facts of the case.

The Lieutenant-Governor's review of the report on the administration of criminal justice is also published. The unwieldy procedure of the criminal courts was a matter for anxious consideration throughout the year, both to His Honor and the Hon'ble Judges of the Chief Court. His Honour says endeavours must be directed towards stripping the Code of needless repetition in procedure, of a great deal that is unessential, as well as a great deal that unduly favours the prisoner at the Bar and fails to grasp with a firm touch what is real in evidence, given by a class of witnesses peculiarly mercurial and peculiarly liable to divergence from the fact, owing partly to imperfect education, a naturally vivid imagination and an almost innocent levity with respect to truth. There are one or two indications that any slackness in the rigour of the law may quite easily be attended by highly undesirable criminal developements. First offenders have suffered so little by being dealt with under section 560 of the Criminal Procedure Code that temptation to make a second trial of luck has often been irresistible. The breaking down of the preventive sections is also a bad sign. In the circumstances of the province the Lieutenant-Governor is not altogether pleased to see a decline in the number of whippings, though this result was to be expected in view of recent legislation.

TRUE NATIONALISM.

(FROM OUR CORRESPONDENT.)

ARRAH, Oct 8.

Some three hundred delegates attended the fifth Sessions of the Beharee Students' Conference here to-day.

The Hon. Mr. Sachidanand Sinha presided and delivered an address dealing with the needs of students in Behar. Regarding the nationalist movement he said that true unity, the basis of true nationality, must spring from within and derive its sustenance from the indigenous elements of society. Unless all the parts making up the country became self-expressive, and self-subsistent, no Indian nation could come into existence, for unity could only be the direct result of the fully-developed individualism of each organic part of the whole organism.

POONA SEVA SADAN.

Annual-Prize Giving Ceremony.

(FROM OUR CORRESPONDENT.)

POONA, Oct. 9.

The annual prize giving ceremony at the Poona Seva Sadan took place in the building of the new English School yesterday evening, in the presence of a numerous gathering of ladies and gentlemen, among whom were Mrs. Alderson, Mrs. Keatings, Mrs. Nowrojee Pudumjee, Mrs. Ramabai Ranade and many others. Dr. R. G. Bhandarkar presided and distributed the prizes.

The report of the first year's work of the Seva Sadan which was read by Mrs. Yamunabal Bhat, Secretary of the Poona Branch, shows that this Branch is managed and controlled by a council of twenty ladies, assisted by a gentleman helpers' committee of eight gentlemen. It has 45 pupils, mostly elderly ladies and widows, and maintains six regular literary classes in Marathi and English as well as sewing, first aid and nursing classes.

Dr. R. G. Bhandarkar, in addressing those present, spoke very hopefully of the work of the Sadan and thanked Mrs. Ranade for all her efforts in the direction of ameliorating the lot of Hindu women in general and the Hindu widows in particular. He also thanked Doctors Gokhale and Shikare for the lectures they delivered to the classes on first aid and nursing.

Mrs. Alderson congratulated the Sadan on the good work which it is accomplishing in the elevation and betterment of the lot of Indian women and said she was glad to see that the institution was progressing. The distribution of flowers closed the ceremony.

RUNNING TRAIN THEFTS.

Bengali Arrested.

(FROM OUR CORRESPONDENT.)

CALCUTTA, Oct. 9.

A Bengali youth, named Mohun Lal Mukerjee, who professed to be a zamindar of Janai, has been accused of a running train theft and is awaiting trial. The complainant, a general merchant of Calcutta, by the name of N. Banerjee, according to his statement, went to Chinsurah with a trunk containing valuable scents to execute orders. He came back to Chinsurah station on Friday night with the trunk carried by a cooly and awaited the arrival of a train. The cooly had left and the merchant was strolling about the platform, leaving the trunk near the Booking office when the accused turned up masked with a chudder. The latter saw the trunk and looked about him to ascertain the whereabouts of the owner. Shortly after the train arrived, the accused put the trunk into an empty compartment where complainant hastened and protested against the conduct of the accused. The complainant wanted to take possession of the trunk, but was refused. The train was on the move in the meantime and the complainant had to share accommodation in the same compartment with accused who threatened him with police prosecution all the way from Serampur until the train arrived at Lilloah where he alighted and was running away, when a Ticket Collector caught him on suspicion. The accused made contradictory statements to the Ticket Collector, who brought him down to Howrah accompanied by the complainant and made him over to the police. Enquiries as to the antecedents of the accused are now being made.

BADAUN CRIMINAL GANG CASE.

Exemplary Sentences.

(FROM OUR CORRESPONDENT.)

ALLAHABAD, Oct. 9.

The Additional Sessions Judge of Badaun has convicted twenty-two dacoits, including a chowkidar and a patwari, in the sensational gang case. The accused were shown to have systematically taken part in a series of crimes, with murder, extending over a long period and were for years a terror to the country side, defying all authority in the most open manner. The gang never hesitated to fire on any one who made a show of molesting them and had no scruple about shedding blood whenever they thought it necessary to do so. The patwari and nine others were sentenced to transportation for life, six to ten years' and the rest to six years' rigorous imprisonment.

RAILWAY BREACHES IN BURMA REPAIRED.

(FROM OUR CORRESPONDENT.)

RANGOON, Oct. 8.

The two serious breaches on the Upper Burma Railway line have at last been repaired, much credit being due to the Railway authorities.

MILITARY POLICEMAN CONVICTED.

(FROM OUR CORRESPONDENT.)

RANGOON, Oct. 8.

The Magistrate of the Western Sub-Division of Rangoon, to-day, sentenced a Military policeman, named Dharam Zarakar, to six weeks' rigorous imprisonment for withdrawal from his office as police without permission.

FATEHGARH JAIL OUTBREAK.

(FROM OUR CORRESPONDENT.)

ALLAHABAD, Oct. 8.

The Fatehgarh Jail Riot Case was resumed yesterday. Wazir Ali, a warder, deposed that food was refused by the prisoners on the 9th of June, because young prisoners had been beaten in the morning. When the prisoners saw the Superintendent later, they made use of abusive language and commenced to break the locks of the gates. Prem Sing, a convict overseer, said that since the affair of January last, when the prisoners created a disturbance and were not punished, they had defied authority. The convict overseers were afraid to report breaches of discipline.

A number of other witnesses were also examined.

FIRE AT PAREL.

Nine Huts Burnt Down.

Yesterday, at about noon, a somewhat serious fire broke out in a hut situated on Ssay Road, Parel, Bombay. Information being given, the Byculla, Chinchpokli and other fire-engines repaired to the scene of fire and extinguished the fire but not before nine huts had been burnt down, as the flames fanned by a strong wind had quickly spread and enveloped the huts. Fortunately no lives were lost as all the inmates rushed out on the alarm being raised. It is alleged the origin of the fire was due to the careless throwing of a beedie.

ACCUSED of conspiracy against the life of the Argentine President, the staff of the Buenos Ayres newspaper "Republica" have been arrested, and will probably be deported.

INDIAN POST OFFICE.

Annual Report.

(FROM OUR CORRESPONDENT.)

SIMLA, Oct. 8.

The annual report of the Post Office for the year 1909-10, which contains a mass of interesting details and general information, is published above the signature of Mr. Stewart Wilson, Director General of Post Offices.

The report opens as follows :—From the following figures, some idea will be formed of the magnitude of the business of the Indian Post Office at the present time. At the close of 1909-10 the numerical strength of its staff was 93,163, the number of Post Offices open was 1,8642 and the mileage of mail lines was 13,6,761 representing an annual travel of over 135 millions of miles. During the year nearly 925 millions of articles, including nearly 26 1/2 millions of registered articles, were given out for delivery. Stamps worth more than 1 1/2 million pounds were sold for postal purposes and over 24 1/2 million money-orders, representing a total value of more than 29 million pounds sterling, were issued. A sum of nearly 5 1/2 million pounds was realised on account of tradesmen and others through the value-payable system. Over a million insured articles, representing a total insured value of nearly 17 million pounds, were posted, while the amount paid as compensation was only about £500. Pensions to the amount of more than £171,000 were disbursed to Native military pensioners.

In the Punjab, 7,701lbs. of quinine were sold to the public and over 5 3-4 millions of telegraph messages were sent from the Telegraph Offices under the control of the Post Office, representing a total revenue of £213,750 as compared with a postal expenditure of £78,000 on account of such offices. The number of accounts open in the Savings Bank on the 31st March was 1,378,916 with a total balance of over 10 1-2 million pounds sterling. The total revenue and expenditure for the year, after making the various administrative adjustments, amounted to £1,943,275 and £1,986,755 respectively. The number of letters, postcards, newspapers and packets issued for delivery and of parcels posted, amounted to 919,524,127, and these figures, added to the 2,44,18,682 money-orders issued for payment, make a grand total for all these classes of articles of 94,39,42,809, as compared with 89,88,86,127 in 1908-09, being an increase of 5·01 per cent. as against one of 5·82 per cent. in the previous year. Of these 94,39,42,809 articles, it is estimated that 94,08,39,537 or 99·67 per cent were actually delivered or paid. The total number of postal articles, excluding money-orders consigned to the Dead-Letter offices during the year, was 92,15,748, representing a satisfactorily small increase over the previous year of only 18 per cent. as against 8·96 per cent. in 1908-09 and 10·38 per cent. in the proceeding year.

Detailed information showing the distribution among the Dead-Letter offices and the manner of disposal of the articles which reached them, shows that more than 30 1-2 per cent. of the articles received were re-directed to the addressees, while more than 43 1-2 per cent. were issued for return to the senders. Less than 9 per cent. of the total number of articles issued by the Dead-Letter offices came back to them as undelivered and the total number of articles finally deposited as dead, that is, as undeliverable either to addressees or senders, was 2,963,653. This represents 32 out of every ten thousand of the total number of articles given out at the Post Offices for delivery, and includes a large number of articles which, from their nature, were not susceptible of delivery, such as articles with no address at all. In Bengal, Madras and Bombay alone on an average about 136 articles were posted every day with no address whatever and many of these contained money or valuables. In articles opened in the five larger Dead-Letter offices, cheques, hundis, currency notes, bills of exchange, coins and other property of the nominal value of nearly 5 1-2 lakhs of rupees were found. The great majority of these articles were successfully delivered either to the addressees or the senders. Among the articles thus delivered was one containing a number of small diamonds posted in an unpaid cover.

The total value of ordinary postage stamps and postal stationery issued during the year amounted to over three crores of rupees showing an increase of more than 44 3-4 lakhs over the the value of issue during the previous year. The total value of service stamps and stationery issued exceeded 46 lakhs, being an increase of more than 2 3-4 lakhs upon last year's figures. The quarter-anna ordinary adhesive stamp continued to command the highest sale, the total number having increased from 167 millions in the previous years to 185 millions during the year under report. The quarter anna single postcard had the next largest sale, but owing to the increasing use of postcards of private manufacture, the sale decreased from over 119 1-2 millions in 1908-09 to 116 1-2 millions. The half-anna adhesive stamp comes next and its issues (including the stamps in booklets) were over 110 3-4 millions. This was followed by the small half-anna envelope, which is sold for the face value of the stamp, with a sale of 69 millions as against 70 millions in the previous year. Of the ordinary stamps the sale of the 4-anna, 8-anna and 1-rupee denominations was smaller during the year under report than the previous year. As regards the 4-anna and the 8-anna stamps, this is due to the increase from the 1st January 1909 of the minimum rate for telegrams from 4 annas to 6 annas. There has been a large corresponding increase in the sale of 6-anna stamps. The demand for the 1-rupee stamp rose abnormally in 1908-09 for the payment of telegraph charges. The issue of the 2-rupees and 5-rupees stamps to Departmental Telegraph Offices was stopped for some months in 1908, and no stamps of higher value than 5 rupees were available in the country till January 1909. With greater sales of the stamps of high value, there was a natural falling off in the same of the 1-rupee stamp in the year under report.

There were 29 cases of highway robbery of the mails as compared with 35 in the previous year. Of these nineteen occurred in British Territory and ten in Native States. Of the robberies that occurred in British Territory, six took places in Madras, four in the Punjab, four in the United Provinces, three in Bombay and two in Bengal. Mr. Stewart Wilson pays high tributes to the work accomplished by Mr. Van Somseren of Bombay, and Mr. Cockrell, Deputy Director General, both of whom have retired.

TENNIS CHAMPIONSHIP AT SIMLA.

(FROM OUR CORRESPONDENT.)

SIMLA, OCT. 8.

The finals of the open Lawn Tennis Championship Tournament took place this afternoon between Mr. R. A. Gamble, Champion of the Punjab for several years and Mr. S. P. O'Donnell, Champion of United Provinces. It was the most interesting match of the whole tournament. Lady Minto was amongst those present, also Lady Dane and Miss Dane.

Play commenced shortly after 4. O'Donnell won the toss and took the service, starting in great form and winning three games straight off. After the third game, however, he fell off, and Gamble won six games on end and took the opening set by 6-3. He won the next set by six to love. In the next set O'Donnell showed his old form and after the score had reached four all, secured the next two games and the set. The fourth set after reaching 3 all, was won by Gamble, who thus secured the Cup. Lady Minto afterwards presented the prizes to the winner and runner up.

RULERS OF INDIA.

THE COMMISSIONER.

THE Commissioner, says a writer in the "Pioneer," is primarily a Collector grown old. The rigid laws of seniority by which age and not merit determine an official's position decree that when a Collector grows stiff in the saddle, slow in his judgment and near his pension he shall be promoted and become a Commissioner. The office of Commissioner for good or evil to the people at large does not approach in importance that of a Collector, but it is reserved for those whom ambition or poverty retain in the service after their pensions are earned. There is reason, too, that a man's pay should increase as his age increases, for his expenses increase with advancing years. Marriage, families, home ties, all indicate that a man's pay should increase as he grows older. Up to a certain point this is right enough, and, indeed, every wise man knows that the age of greatest merits is the age which he himself has attained and that the young men below him and the old men over him are alike wanting in their different ways in the qualities of force and character which he find so praiseworthy in himself.

The Commissioner is primarily a restraint on his Collectors, a cog on their energies and a drag on their enthusiasm. It is not for him to originate, to inspire or to direct; his functions are confined to seeing that everything proceeds along well beaten lines; that nothing is done that has not been done a thousand times before; and that all reports are duly sent in. After all the man with schemes is usually a nuisance and if the Commissioner does not suppress him someone else will. The Commissioner being human likes best, the Collector who worries him least, or to him the best Collector is the one who writes the fewest letters, records orders which give no trouble, submits reports which only have to be forwarded, and against whom no one complains and few appeal. If in addition the Collector does him well in camp, puts him on to good shooting and sees that he does not get too many visitors, and in particular that the bores and the grumblers do not come near him, then what more can the Commissioner ask for the man below? One of the most important duties of a Commissioner is to march through the districts under his control, inspect the offices, get in touch with local thought, and local need and generally to tune up the district administration to the high pitch of efficiency which he no doubt always achieved when he was a Collector himself. He sends round his tour dates and all is bustle and hurry and preparation. All officials, from the Collector downwards, abandon their plans and their programmes of work, and huddle to the border of their district to receive the Commissioner who by coming does so much honour and beneath whose footsteps the crops grow green. He never comes on the date announced, for the Commissioner though great is not so great as to know how highly punctuality lies as a virtue on the great.

Yet he comes at last, and often walking, for the Commissioner is old, his liver is sluggish and his blood is chill, so that he walks in the morning before taking to the saddle. The attendant throng toil behind, each man fighting with a kicking pony and each stout official limping in his tight party shoes. The heavy bags of files follow him to each camping ground, borne on the heads of slaves. Swiftly he rides when he mounts his steed, and entering quickly is tent he labours all day on his cases and his files Unwillingly he spares a few minutes to meet the rural notables and much of the information he collects from the officials who surround him is more often false than true. To every question asked in public some official answers wildly and at random. The peasant who knows and could tell the truth stands silent while his betters speak duly wondering. The Commissioner inspects a class on tour and each man follows a different method. One sits on the office table, swing his legs, says the place smells as it always does, and goes forth leaving some clerk to pry round and write a note. Another's eyes lighten with battle and he sits and peers at crabbed registers and questions and storms until each official trembles and the perspiration running off them stands in pools upon the ground. Both ways are good: who shall say which is the better or who judge a Commissioner?

Socially the Commissioner is great, but not so great as he would like to be. He ranks with a Major-General and most people do not know him by sight. The General moves in a society where every man is his subordinate and every woman wants him to do something for her husband. The Commissioner, officially no less great, moves among people who wonder what on earth a Commissioner is and way he takes off upon the General's wife to sup. His subordinates are lost among the gilded crowd, and he is so terribly apt to be mistaken for one of them. His wife feels the mistake more than he does, and she sometimes drinks gall and wormwood in her tea. His pay is seldom enough for the position thrust upon him, and small wonder that he

DOCTOR'S JOKE WITH GERMAN OFFICER.

Dr. Jocquemard, a prominent Parisian medical man and a Lorrainer by birth, has been expelled from Metz, where he had gone to visit his nephew. He was charged with being a French officer in disguise, and although he furnished his Paris address and gave the German authorities every opportunity of identifying him, they insisted on his leaving the country, and sent an officer to see to that he left the town by a certain train. Dr. Jacquemard met the officer in the station, invited him to luncheon, and gave him such a good meal that he fell asleep at table. The Frenchman then wrote a polite little letter to the German military authorities, saying that the officer who had been to look after him was hardly in a fit state to do so. He put the letter in the sleeping man's pocket and returned to Paris.

LORD KITCHENER'S NEW HOME.

Lord Kitchener, the "Express" understands, is about to become the possessor of Broome Park, near Canterbury. The house was built by Sir Basil Dixwell, who "dyked and quicksetted the great pasture fields and laid them to pasture which before had been arrable ground time out of the memory of man." The result was that Broome House now stands in a nobly timbered park of 400 acres. The foundations were laid in April 1635, find and "it was up by the middle of November following, but although the main house was builded, reared, and tilted by the time aforesaid, yet the inwork such as sealing and boarding was not done till the end of the year 1636, and it was September following in the year 1637 before the joiners had made any great progress in wainscotting the rooms, that it was St. Mich. 1638 before they and the painters had finished the work and made the house ready for Sir Basil to come into it." The house is said to have cost Sir Basil £2000. The vicissitudes of fate brought the estate into the Oxenden family by way of Sir Henry Oxenden, who chose a Dixwell as his third wife and who was succeeded at Broome in the eighteenth century by his grandson. Lord Kitchener's new home has not changed much in the last one hundred years, but the estates have fallen away from 5000 to 400 acres. There are many beautiful pictures in the fine house.

BUCKINGHAM'S THREE VETERANS.

The county of Buckingham possesses a trio of Crimean veterans whose united ages total nearly 250 years. General Sir G. W. A. Higginson, of Marlow, was adjutant of the 3rd Battalion Grenadier Guards when they left St. George's Barracks on February 22, 1854. He is now approaching his ninetieth year. At High Wycombe there are two veterans each about eighty years of age, who were present at the fall of Sevastopol, the fifty-fifth anniversary of which occurred a few days ago. They are Mr. Edward Bulpit and Mr. John Acome. Mr. Bulpit—who, after leaving the Army, served in the police force for a quarter of a century—enjoys excellent health, but his colleague has been confined to his bed for some time.

THE SAVAGES' ANCIENT LIGHT.

It would be a distinctly retrograde step in the progressive civilisation of London if the members of the Savage Club were deprived of the light which has shone upon their life; their whole existence might become flat and unprofitable if flats interposed between them and the sun they adore. Residents habitual and occasional, of Adelphi-terrace would suffer in health if cut off from the gardens named after Victoria the Good, their venerated Queen, and visitors would deplore the desecration of historic ground. For it is not only the feelings of the Savages and their neighbours that have to be considered. The place of their habitation is sanctified by many memories—of David Copperfield, of David Garrick, and a host of other celebrities and institutions. It would be a real loss were an ancient landmark to lose all its distinction. Luckily the threat of obscuring buildings is now said to have no basis in solid intention. In any case, Adelphi-terrace harbours enough wit and eloquence to state its claims with persuasive force.

MEXICAN CENTENARY.

It was a graceful act on the part of Spain to mark the Mexican centenary of Independence by presenting the country with the uniform and other relics of Morelos, Mexico's leader in the war of Independence. It is regretable that England has been debarred by national mourning from competing in this pleasant rivalry. As the "Times" correspondent remarks, President Diez, though ill at the time, made a point of attending the memorial service for King Edward thereby affording fresh proof of the popularity enjoyed in Mexico by a country which has sixty millions of capital invested in her industries. The Mexicans do not understand our prolonged mourning, and are only partly reconciled to our practical abstention from the general readering of honour to the happy celebration, by the building of a permanent Legation, the first country to take this step. It may not be generally known that King Edward President Diaz the Grand Cross of the Order of the Bath, and in other ways we have shown our sympathy in times past with the country, especially during the war with America which General Grant styled "the most unjust and most unholy war ever waged by a strong nation against a weaker one."

BEAR'S FIGHT FOR LIBERTY.

The New York correspondent of the "Telegraph" describes the fight for liberty of a giant Polar bear—Silver King—brought to New York by Captain Bob Bartlett for presentation to the Bronx Zoo. Captain Bartlett went nearest to the North Pole with Commander Peary and since then he has made another trip to the Arctic with Paul R. Rainey and Harry Whitney, the American sportsmen. This bear is described as weighing nearly a ton, and standing 8ft. high on its hind legs. With dogs so distract the animal's attention, he was captured on an ice floe in the Arctic and hoisted on board. He lay in the hold, starving for a few days, and was at length tempted into a strong cage, where provisions had been placed. Present Silver King made his last struggle for liberty, and was not subdued until five pounds of chloroform had been placed into his cage. The latter was swung successfully from the ship into the Manchurian, the bear growling and protesting, flinging himself against the bars at the sides of the cage all the time. Suddenly when twenty keepers from the Zoo were congratulating themselves, the bear succeeded in getting his paw through the back of the cage, and in a few minutes would probably have freed himself.

DEFEATED BY CHLOROFORM.

A race now ensured for two-inch planks and nails. The Zoo keepers fought the battle with hammer and nails against the teeth and claws of silver King As the bear gashed and ripped they boarded him in, closing up the holes as fast as he could make them. Suddenly, while the Zoo labourers rested, the bears, massive head, with his red tongue rolling out like a dog's and his big amber eyes blazing, shot from a hole in the roof. The Zoo keeper swifty hammered the bear over the head with an iron bar, and in a second half-a-dozen men, with boards and hammers were on the roof, ready to close the hole. The bear, however, was too quick for them, and he rose up, and the men fairly fell off the roof. Then the Zoo Curator while the keepers plied the creature with iron bars, had a sudden inspiration. He dashed away in his motor-car, ransacked several druggists' stores, and returned with five pounds of chloroform. He saturated lint with four pounds of the opiate, and forced it into the cage, every hole of which was now closely covered with canvas, and Silver King succumbed very speedily. Afterwards followed a mad rush to the Zoo. The Zoo curator stuck to the top of bear's cage, and at intervals renewed doses of the anæsthetic. By the time the Zoo several miles distant, was reached, the bear was more than alive, so he was easily transferred to a big cage where he was welcomed by several other natives of the frozen North.

SCIENTIFIC NOTES.

TIDES IN THE SOLID EARTH.

The origin of the earth according to the New Geology referred to in last week's "Science Jottings," is founded on recent studies of what are known as "Earth Tides." Careful observations with the refined instruments develop for the study of earthquakes has shown that the solid curest of the earth he responsive in a remarkable way to movements on its surface. The rise and fall of the tide are sufficient to set it in motion, and march of a body of men towards a building can be registered on an instrument inside. And it has been further proved that there is a regular rise and fall of the rocky crust of the earth similar to the rise and fall of the ocean tides. These are known as Earth Tides. The moon draws out the solid earth on the side next to it, and leaves a protuberance on the opposite side exactly as it draws out and leaves the waters of the ocean.

RISE OF SIX INCHES TWICE DAILY.

In an able article in "Knowledge," Mr. J. A. Hardcastle takes up the subject of earth tides, and discusses their cause. There is, he tells us, a regular upheaval of the solid crust of the earth twice every day to the extent of six inches! Theoretically, it has long been known that such tides in the solid crust must exist in accordance with the laws of gravity, but the difficulty of detecting them had until recently proved insuperable. The pendulum of the instrument used to detect them responds so readily to other disturbing movements that it is extremely difficult to say that any deflection is actually caused by earth tides. As Mr. Hardcastle tells us, "Professor Darwin found that his own weight as he approached his instrument, made a perceptible dimple in the earth's surface, causing a tilt towards himself which the pendulum duly recorded."

DIFFICULTY OF DETECTING.

The difficulty of detecting the tidal rise and fall of the earth is further illustrated by a comparison. How could a sailor, for example, at sea in a ship detect and measure the tides of the ocean? Up to the present Dr. Hecker has been the most successful observer of earth tides and his results have been recorded in the publications of the Prussian Geodetical Institute. The principle adopted by Dr. Hecker, as well as by Professor Darwin, is that of measuring the diflection of a pendulum from the vertical. And when it is remembered that the instrument is so sensitive that it responds to the warping of the ground caused by the sun's heat, and to any load placed in its neighbourhood, the difficulty of detecting the earth tides may be imagined. A rise in the barometer, again, may be followed by a tilt as great as that due to lunar influence for which the observer is looking, while an instrument far inland will respond to the rise of the tide? Such are the difficulties with which Dr. Hecker had to contend, and which he has succeeded in overcoming.

HOW OVERCOME.

Two factors seem to have contributed chiefly to the final triumph. The work was carried on continuously for two years, and the recording instrument was placed 80ft. deep in a disused well-shaft. In this position the warping effect due to the sun's heat was reduced to one-seventh, though it still exceeded that of the direct pull of the moon. Dr. Hecker's ingenious arrangement of horizontal pendulums remained at the bottom of the shaft for 29 months, and automatically recorded their own movements. The greatest movement recorded was that due to settlement of the well shaft owing to cracks in the masonry. This movement was so regular that it could be allowed for. Then there was a daily swing recorded due to the warping of the earth by sun heat, and among other minor disturbances a daily oscillation which must have been due to the pull of the moon. The fact that the causes of the oscillations are periodic makes it possible to pick out those due to the moon. For these must coincide in time with the times of the moon crossing the longitudes of the place and its antipodes.

METEORITES AND EARTH HISTORY.

According to recent theories of earth history the meteor is assuming a more and more important place. At present the earth receives only a very trifling supply of matter from this source. But in earlier times it may have grown appreciably by the accretion of meteoric matter from outside. And if the meteoric matter came in sufficiently large masses it might have important effects in modifying the earth's surface. It has been suggested, for example that in time past sufficiently large meteorites reached the moon to produce by their impact the so-called lunar craters.

METEORITES AS LAVA PRODUCERS.

Mr. Schwarz, however, in his "Causal Geology," reads a new lesson from the moon to apply to earth history. According to his view the "craters" mark the sites of real volcanoes, in which the lava welled up, but did not overflow. The moon was bombarded by huge meteorites, but the place of their impact was not marked by the production of craters. He sees rather the result of their action in those great lunar plains known to astronomers as seas or Maria. These, he suggests, are vast spreads of lava, due to the mutual melting of the meteorite and the lunar surface by the heat of collision. And it may be that certain masses of igneous rocks in the Archæan may have resulted from the impact of a large meteorite.

TRANS-SAHARAN AVIATION.

Interest in the proposed trans Saharan aerial service has been stimulated by the announcement that the French Government was prepared to support the scheme. From the terminus of the South Oran Railway to Timbuctoo is only 1,600 kilometres, but under existing conditions the journey is long and toilsome. There is nothing inherently impossible in accomplishing it by means of air craft, either dirigibles or aeroplanes, relay depots for petrol and other stores being established, so as to enable the journey to be done by easy stages. General Bailloud, of the 19th Corps, has been instructed to make the necessary surveys, and select the most suitable spots for the various depots, and officers of the Colonial Army, are to be selected for carrying on the service. Under favourable conditions, there is no doubt that the journey could be done, but if the conditions were to be unfavourable, as they are bound to be at some time or other, the position of the voyageurs would be one of even more than usual danger. To be caught in a sandstorm would be one of the perils to be looked for, though it might be possible, if sufficient warning were given, to rise above it, but there seems no way of guarding against a breakdown on one of the long waterless stretches. The mere fact that the scheme has received official support shows how determined the French authorities are to develop the aeronautical branch of the army, and though it is difficult to see how the project can be of real value to commerce, the Sahara should be an excellent place for carrying out experiments which it was desired to keep from the eyes of the world.

AEROPLANES SPEED-ALARM.

A number of highly ingenious designs for speed-alarms have been submitted in the competition for the "Flight" prize. In one the air, as the machine meets it, rushes through a funnel and causes a fan to revolve, which, when the determined speed is attained, swings out a hinged hammer, which hits a bell. In another the wind, impinging on a pressure plate, forces it backward, and uncovers in succession suitably tuned whistles. A third combines the principle of the anemometer and the engine governor. Revolving cups rotate by the action of the wind, and, being attached like the balls of the governor, fly out further and further as the increasing rate of rotation is caused by the increasing speed of the machine through the air. In doing so they lift a rod and uncover the bore of a whistle. The sound increases with the velocity of the current of air, and does not cease till it has been reduced to a predetermined value. Other plans suggested depend for their efficacy on ringing a bell, which is started by a lever from a pressure board or by a small propeller fan.

FLORILINE:—For the Teeth and Breath.—A few drops of the liquid Floriline, sprinkled on a wet tooth brush, produce a pleasant lather which thoroughly cleanses the teeth from all parasites or impurities, hardens the gums, prevents tartar, stops decay, gives to the teeth a peculiar pearly whiteness, and a delightful fragrance of the breath. It removes all unpleasant odour arising from decayed teeth or tobacco smoke. "The Fragrant Floriline" being composed in parts of honey and sweet herbs is delicious to the taste and the greatest toilet discovery of the age. Of all Chemists and Perfumers. WE ARE THE PIONEERS OF WRIST WEAR. A new model has to pass through the severest tests before we place it before the public; and should it fail to satisfy in the minutest particular, what we know to be the essentials of a Wrist Watch, it is at once discarded.

These "Ideal" Wrist Watches are constructed to withstand hard-wear, such as we know a wrist watch must of necessity be subjected to. They are built for the Indian climate and to these combined features we attribute their great popularity. The lever movement is fully jewelled, strong keyless attachment, compensated balance, carefully adjusted hair spring, white enamel dial, bold numerals, sunk seconds circle. The time-keeping accuracy and durability of these watches carry our usual guarantee. The soft leather wristlet obviates contact of metal with the skin, vitiates the possibilities of irritation or poisoning and reduces even the remote chance of moisture permeating case.

Both of the illustrations are photographic reproductions, and No. 2 shows the chamois lined strap crossing the back of watch.

KNIGHT OF THE ORDER OF LEOPOLD OF BELGIUM
KNIGHT OF THE LEGION OF HONOUR

LIGHT-BROWN COD-LIVER OIL

THE PUREST. THE MOST PALATABLE. THE MOST DIGESTIBLE. THE MOST EFFICACIOUS.

Incontestably proved by Forty Years' Medical Experience to be The only Cod Liver Oil which produces the full curative effects in CONSUMPTION AND DISEASES OF THE CHEST, THROAT AFFECTIONS, GENERAL DEBILITY, DISEASES OF THE SKIN, WASTING DISEASES OF CHILDREN, RICKETS, AND ALL SCROFULOUS DISORDERS.

SELECT MEDICAL OPINIONS.

SIR G. DUNCAN GIBB, Bart., M.D., Physician to the Westminster Hospital.

"The value of DR. DE JONGH'S LIGHT-BROWN COD LIVER OIL as a therapeutic agent in a number of diseases, chiefly of an exhaustive character, has been admitted by the world of medicine; but, in addition, I have found it a remedy of great power in the treatment of many Affections of the Throat and Larynx, especially in Consumption of the latter, where it will sustain life when everything else fails."

DR. SINCLAIR COGHILL, Physician to the Royal National Hospital for Consumption, Ventnor.

"I have convinced myself that in Tubercular and the various forms of Strumous Disease, Dr. DE JONGH'S LIGHT-BROWN COD LIVER OIL possesses greater therapeutic efficacy than any other Cod Liver Oil with which I am acquainted. It was especially noted in a large number of cases in which the patients protested they had never been able to retain or digest other Cod Liver Oil, that DR. DE JONGH'S OIL was not only tolerated, but taken readily, and with marked benefit."

JOSEPH J. POPE Esq., M.R.C.S., Late Staff Surgeon, Army, Professor of Hygiene, Birkbeck Institution, London.

"I found during my Indian experience that the worth and character of DR. DE JONGH'S LIGHT-BROWN COD LIVER OIL remained unchanged by tropical heat or foreign climate, and it was, from its uniformity of character, particularly adapted for long-continued administration. The value of 'hydro-carbons' in all debilitated states of the system is now becoming thoroughly recognized; and it is, without doubt, from the animal oils, and fats, rather than from their vegetable substitutes, that we may hope to derive the surest benefit. The Oil of DR. DE JONGH places in everyone's reach a reliable and valuable remedy, one that cannot be too widely recognized."

DR. R. C. CROFT, Author of "Handbook for the Nursery."

"DR. DE JONGH'S LIGHT-BROWN COD LIVER OIL is almost a specific in many of the Diseases peculiar to Infancy and Childhood, and I have seen marked benefit produced by its use. Patients prefer it to the Pale Oils, and are able to retain it more comfortably."

DR. DE JONGH'S LIGHT-BROWN COD LIVER OIL is Supplied ONLY in IMPERIAL Half-Pints, Pints and Quarts, sealed with BETTS' Patent Capsule impressed on the top with DR. DE JONGH'S Stamp, and on the side with his Signature, and the Signature of ANSAR, HARFORD & Co.; and bearing under the wrapper a Label with the same Stamp and Signatures.

DR. DE ROOS' MEDICINES HAVE AN UNRIVALLED REPUTATION OF OVER FIFTY YEARS.

DR. DE ROOS'

WORLD-FAMED

GUTTÆ VITÆ

OR LIFE DROPS.

The Great European Remedy for Nervous and Functional Exhaustion.

This extraordinary rejuvenating essence strengthens the vitality of the whole system, gives energy to the muscles, and speedily restores the impaired powers of life, imparting strength and manly vigour to the most debilitated and worn out constitution. Those who suffer from Premature Decay, or deficiency or the Vital Forces, owing to dissipation, worry, overwork, excesses, or any other cause, will find this medicine just what they require. Equally adapted for the studious and sedentary; the aged and infirm; the nervous and debilitated; as also for delicate females and weakly children. All sufferers from loss of appetite, nervous headache, lassitude, and despondency—too often accompanied with suicidal thoughts—should make immediate and fair unprejudiced trial of this wonderful medicine, which is daily effecting the most remarkable cures in patients who had been given up by the Faculty as incurable, and left to drag out the remainder of their existence a misery to themselves, and a continual anxiety to their friends. In all cases of nervous and functional debility, epilepsy, impurity and poorness of the blood, aversion to and incapacity for society, study, or business, giddiness, disturbed sleep, harassing dreams, loss of memory, and other symptoms, the result of self-acquired ailments that embitter and shorten life, it is truly unrivalled. To married persons especially, this preparation will prove invaluable, giving strength and vigour in place of lassitude and incompetency. Price 11s. or four times that quantity, 33s. per Bottle.

DR. DE ROOS' COMPOUND RENAL PILLS for Pains in the Back, Gravel, Lumbago, Gout, Rheumatism, Diabetes, and all Kidney Affections; weakness of the loin, Sandy or other Deposits, Discharges and Diseases of the Urinary Organs generally. Price 22s. 9d. per Box.

DR. DE ROOS' VEGETABLE LIFE PILLS, for Indigestion, Biliousness, and all disorders of the Liver, Stomach, and Bowels; whilst as a universal family medicine for both sexes, and all ages, they are unequalled. 1s.1½d. and 2s. 9d. per Box.

DR. DE ROOS' PILE AND FISTULA PILLS, the only reliable remedy for these annoying and painful ailments. The first dose gives relief, and in all ordinary cases a few days only are necessary to effect a cure. Price 22s. 9d. per Box.

Purchasers are particularly requested to see that every package of Dr. DE ROOS' Medicines bears the British Government Stamp, with the words, "WALTER DE ROOS, LONDON," impressed thereon in white letters on a red ground, and refuse worthless imitations frequently put forward by unscrupulous vendors for the sake of extra profit.

DEBILITATED and NERVOUS SUFFERERS should read the "Medical Adviser," by Dr. DE ROOS, on the secret causes of impotency, impotency, depression of spirits, and confirmed melancholy. Price 1s., post free from Mr. LAWES, Medical Publisher, Hand Court, Holborn, London, W.C., or obtainable of the Agents for Dr. DE ROOS' Medicines.
